HAPPY CAMPER RELEASES THREE NEW WINES As We Head Into the Fall Season

Alamo, CA: Happy Camper has released the following three wines, just in time for easy fall fare:

2008 Chardonnay ~ $8.99
2008 Happy Camper Merlot ~ $8.99
2008 Cabernet Sauvignon ~ $8.99

Enjoying Happy Camper wines is more about those fun, memorable moments, when a glass of wine is one of the unforgettable ingredients during the best of times. Fall ushers in events, like fall sports, outings with friends, and times when we all feel like Happy Campers during a time of harvest.

The 2008 Happy Camper Chardonnay presents crisp apple and pear on the nose, with similar flavors on the palate. This wine is a natural pairing for simple fare, including cheeses or stir fried vegetables. It is also very enjoyable with a roast turkey sandwich.

The 2008 Happy Camper Merlot has flavors of blackberry, plum and spice, while supple tannins smooth the way for grilled pork tenderloin, smoked salmon, pastas and pizzas. The night is filled with stars, when Happy Camper Merlot is one of them!

The 2008 Happy Camper Cabernet Sauvignon is loaded with spice and berry flavors. A fantastic accompaniment for herb-encrusted roast leg of lamb or grilled beef tenderloin; at home or a camp site, this Cab delivers the right complement to any meal.

Happy Camper wine is about adventure and good times. Whether traveling or staying close to home during this fall season, Happy Camper wine fits perfectly in any plans.

These “every day value” wines are affordably priced at only $8.99 a bottle. Tech data is also attached with more details.
